

Ball Games Divided At Red Deer Recently

A friendly exhibition series between the Didsbury Models and Red Deer Clippers was played at Red Deer last Wednesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon game Didsbury took an early lead, added to the lead as the game advanced, and were the winners by a 11-9 score after nine innings of play. Red Deer rallied in the eighth but the Models settled down to spoil the Clippers' chance of victory.

In the evening game the Didsbury Models fell apart in the fourth inning, allowing Red Deer to score eight runs, enough to win the ball game. The Clippers were easy winners of this game by a 14-7 score, and features of the game were home runs by Schneidmiller of Didsbury and Steves of Red Deer.

A fair sized crowd was on hand to witness the games. Didsbury: Schneidmiller, Wood, Folkman, Goettgen, Luft, Rundberg, Fox, Irwin, Dupont, Severns. Red Deer: Donaghy, Duffy, Morgan, Griffin, Steves, Flynn, Nichol, Leclerc, Day, Turner, Purdie. First Game—Didsbury: 603 302 030—11. Red Deer: 020 020 050—9. Second Game—Didsbury: 100 010 002—7. Red Deer: 110 800 112—14.

One Man Killed In Highway Accident

Another car accident on the highway just north of the Arden Deadrick farm on Friday evening about 10:30 p.m. caused the death of Mr. Tom Robb of Edmonton, and seriously injured Mr. and Mrs. Loveseth and Charlotte Dehl, also of Edmonton.

The accident was caused when the car driven by Mr. Loveseth crashed into the back of a truck which had stopped to aid a motorist ahead with a flat tire. When the repair was made the truck apparently proceeded to leave ahead of the car, travelling at a fair rate of speed the Edmonton car, coming from the north failed to notice the truck in motion and crashed into the back of the vehicle.

Mrs. Loveseth was brought to the Didsbury hospital and was attended by Dr. McKenzie. She is suffering with a broken arm and head injuries. Mr. Loveseth and Charlotte Dehl were taken to the Olds hospital for attention to their injuries. The party in the Edmonton car was on a trip to the States at the time of the accident.

COMBINE HARVESTING

Combines are being used to combine 90 per cent of the wheat and rice crops in the United States this year. Combines are also being used to harvest 75 per cent of the barley, flaxseed and rye, and 60 per cent of the oats.

While figures are not available for this year, in 1949 there were 25,000 combines on U.S. farms, while in 1945 the total was 375,000.

Radio Chemicals May Be Cure For Cancer

Considerable research on the effectiveness of radio-active chemicals as a cure for cancer is being carried on in a gigantic research institute in New York City, according to Dr. Frank Menonson, Calgary veterinarian, who returned to this city recently after two years in the United States.

Dr. Menonson, who has been taking part in research in experimental physiology at the Sloan Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, said that scientists there have been devoting their greatest efforts towards studying the effect of radio-active iodine, cobalt and other such materials, on cancer.

While he declined to express his own personal views on the new field of cancer cures, he said the officials of the institute felt that radio-active chemicals provided one of the most promising hopes for developing a cancer cure.

Dr. Menonson himself was attached to the animal laboratories of the Sloan Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, and other veterinarians tested various techniques on animals suffering from cancer and when certain techniques showed promise of aiding human victims, the techniques were used by medical doctors on human patients.

As far as the research at the Sloan Kettering Institute was concerned, surgery was taken first place in the use of radio-active chemicals, Dr. Menonson said.

Here, Dr. Kamill Idil, representative of Turkey to the U.N. Commission on Korea (left) visits a refugee center at Pusan, accompanied by Dr. M. Lee (right), Korean interpreter of the Commission and a policeman of the Republic of Korea.

31 ALBERTANS MAKE PACK TRIP OVER THE BANFF-JASPER HIGHWAY TO GOLDEN, B.C.

About two weeks ago a party of 31 people made up of citizens of Red Deer, Innisfail, Eckville and Rocky Mountain House started on a real pioneer type of trip over the David Thompson route to the Banff-Jasper road and then went some 85 additional miles to Golden, over no roads at all.

According to an account of the trip published in the Innisfail Province, the party was made up of private cars, trucks, and two 15-cwt. army trucks. The road to within 15 miles of Nordegg was good but from there on it was not so good. From Nordegg west the trail was difficult and after a few miles one car was forced out. Still working west the party reached the Kiene River, better known as the White Goat River. This is about half way to Banff-Jasper highway. Here they made camp for the night.

Tuesday morning they were up and at it again. The first problem was to cross the White Goat river. This was done by one of the large trucks crossing and pulling a cable from a winch on one of the jeeps. This gave a cable across by which the rest of the vehicles were hauled across the river.

The party reached the Banff-Jasper Highway Tuesday where they camped. Then on Wednesday morning they started over the real rough part of the trip, cars being replaced by horses. The first 25 miles was not too bad on a pretty fair trail. This was covered without trouble. From then on the trail was just a long line of fire which had wiped out every sign of a trail about 15 years ago.

On Thursday and Friday in two full days only seven miles were covered. Then they got down on the flats and followed the Blareberry Creek, crossing this river many times.

In one of these crossings Jack Shaw's horse got part way across when it became frightened and attempted to turn back, going down a deep hole. The creek runs very fast here and carried horse and rider down stream. Jack Shaw was swept off his horse but was able to cling to the saddle. He finally got close to shore and was able to get out on the bank.

At another crossing one of the pack horses got into trouble and the pack was lost, but fortunately the horses were pulled out and was relieved after several hours of careful nursing.

By following the banks of the river and making detours where necessary the party reached Golden on Sunday evening and returned by car to Calgary and home.

Only eight of the original group and five helpers took the trip from the Banff-Jasper highway to Golden. They had 20 horses to take care of the packs and the party.

Accompanying the party were photographers from the Alberta Government. They took pictures all along the route and when these are finished they will no doubt be shown throughout the province.

WIFE OF FORMER RESIDENT ARRIVES FROM CHINA

Mr. Yee Bow of the Club Cafe is in Vancouver where he met Mrs. Yee Bow who has arrived Saturday from China. They are expected to arrive in Innisfail within the next ten days or two weeks. Accompanying Mrs. Yee Bow is their teenage son who will make his home in Innisfail with his parents and his mother's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Yee Bow lived for some years in Didsbury where their son Lanny was born.—Innisfail Province.

Harvesting of Grain Now Fairly General

Harvesting around Didsbury is now becoming fairly general due to the hot weather of the past few days and farmers are cutting in all parts of the district.

Because of the dry spring in the eastern part of the district seed in some cases was late in germinating and much of the second growth is late, causing a delay in harvesting. The result of this was the frost damage which is showing on crops about ten miles east of Didsbury.

West of town right through to the Eastern Timber district and at Benia, there has been little if any frost to date and due to the excellent moisture in the spring the grain is farther advanced and the crop is heavy. Many farmers in this area have considerable crop in stock and ready for sale.

The crops which were hailed have made a wonderful comeback and if the fine weather holds out a good average crop will be harvested despite the late season.

He is just one of the hundreds who during the day will drop into the branch bank around the corner.

Savings depositors with their pay cheques . . . retail merchants with the day's cash . . . people consulting the manager about loans, others cashing cheques . . . it is all part of the daily work of the branch bank.

In ten years the number of accounts maintained by bank depositors has grown from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000.

This shows how Canadians have come to count on their local banks for a great variety of services. The banks keep pace with the growing needs of the nation.

EXPLOSIVES AND SHARKS

ALL IN A DAY'S WORK

Forests and farms are generally thought of as quiet places in the main, but agricultural experts of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) are not so sure. Here are some of their reasons.

Raymond Garver, an FAO forest expert on a mission to Nicaragua earlier this year, flew across the country in a freight plane, counting the minutes. He did not know until after the takeoff that he was flying two-and-one-half tons of dynamite destined for a mining camp. Later, Mr. Garver and his colleagues took a bit of time off for a dip at a Pacific beach, but the swim was turned into a rout when they discovered their fellow swimmers were sharks.
Donald Gillilan, member of an FAO advisory mission in Bolivia, got lost with two companions in a trackless jungle. After stumbling about for six days, they were saved by their own ingenuity. Using a white mosquito net as a background in a clearing, they expelled out UN with green jungle grass. A Bolivian relief plane spotted them, dropped food and guided rescuers.

Dr. Cleo Logothetis, FAO entomologist, looked up from his work in Guatemala on an anti-locust mission to find himself looking down a revolver barrel. The farmer holding his pistol shouted that anti-locust spray teams had wrecked his sesame plants. When he learned that the spray was helping him produce more, he was talked out of using the gun.

Announce Dates And Limits of Game Season

Regulations for the hunting of big game and migratory and upland birds have been announced.
Although shooting of Hungarian Partridge in the E.I.D. is unlawful this season, they may be hunted in other parts of the province from Oct. 4 to Nov. 11. Bag limit has been set at 25 for the season.

Same dates and 10 per day and 50 for the season have been set for other upland birds north of the S.
Saskatchewan River and Highway 16, Edmonton to Lloydminster.
They are sharp-tailed grouse, rufed grouse and spruce partridge.

South of the N. Saskatchewan and Highway 16, the limit on these three species is set at three per day and twelve for the season. Same dates apply. Other regulations include:

Phased Season
Pheasants throughout the province; 3 per day and 12 per season; Oct. 4 to Nov. 11.
Blue grouse, anywhere; 3 per day and 18 per season; Sept. 1 to Sept. 30.

Migratory birds— geese, ducks, Wilson snipe; northern zone, Sept.
9 to Nov. 2; middle zone, Sept. 16 to Nov. 9; southern zone, Sept. 23 to Nov. 16. The bag limits are geese, 5 per day, 15 for season; ducks, 8 per day, 40 per season;
Wilson snipe 8 per day, possession 16 with the season's northern zone Sept. 9 to Oct. 9; middle zone
Sept. 16 to Oct. 16; southern zone Sept. 23 to Oct. 23.

Given Concession
Hunters around Sullivan, Beaver hill and Buffalo Lakes get a concession this year. Last year the shooting of geese was prohibited within one-half mile of Sullivan Lake. This year all migratory birds may be shot within 100 yards of the above named lakes.

There has been a change in the regulations of tagging big game.
They may be tagged: Through the eye socket; between the bone and the tendon on the hind leg immediately above the hock; around the base of the antlers.

The regulations say: Any carcass of big game animals found without a tag attached and "which has not been properly closed and securely locked in place" shall be considered illegal game and liable to confiscation. It has been found that these seals can be inserted in reverse and do not lock and might possibly be used a second time.

NEW TYPE FENCE
Canadian farmers will be interested in a new type of fence wire developed in the U.K., says the Ontario Milk Proce.

The new product is said to provide chicken wire as strong as steel but completely rustless, and only one-third as heavy. Made of Aluminum alloy, it is resistant to corrosion and its light weight makes it easy to carry erect.

How its cost will compare with steel wire is not stated but a non-corrosive wire would have a popular appeal on most Canadian farms.

WHEAT POOL CROP ESTIMATE
The Alberta Wheat Pool estimates wheat production in this province this year at 118 million bushels. This compares with the production of 97 million bushels last year and a recent estimate of 127 million bushels issued by the bureau of statistics.

WEDDINGS

TYSON — TRAUB

The marriage of Miss Mildred Traub and Mr. Charles Tyson was solemnized in the United Missionary Church, Didsbury, on August 31, at 3 p.m., and the church was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli and Vases of sweet peas. Two tall candle sticks completed the platform setting, each one holding seven tapers. The bride is the youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Traub.

The ceremony was read by the bride's father, assisted by Rev.
Ozro Traub, youngest brother of the bride, who recently returned from missionary work in Africa.

The bride was given in marriage by her oldest brother, Mr. Ernest Traub, and her wedding gown of ivory slipper satin was designed in Princess lines with off-the-shoulder neck line inset with net yoke and scalloped trim. Her finger-ring veil fell gracefully from a sweet-heart hair daintily trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with her prayer book. Bridesmaids of Stephanos and yellow roses, a cascade of ribbon tied in lover's knot falling gracefully from it.

Before the bridal procession two nephews, Ross Traub and LeVorne Traub, lit the candles. Rev. Harley Traub, also a brother of the bride, sang "Love is Shining" and "A Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Harley Traub played the wedding music.

The bride was attended by Mrs.
Auburn Witt of Portland, Oregon, as matron of honor, who was attired in mauve satin floor-length gown. The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Frey, wore a yellow satin gown.
Both gowns were cut after the pattern of that worn by the bride.
They carried complementary colonial bouquets of gladioli.

Little Miss Sharon Hunsperger was flower girl and was gowned in frilled pale green nylon sheer, and she carried a nosegay of flowers.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Glen Sleight of Portland, Oregon, and Mr. Auburn Witt of the same city. The guests were ushered in by Mr. Raymond Young of Edmonton, and Mr. Witt.

Following the church rites a reception was held in the Mountain View Bible College of which the bride is a graduate. 85 guests were received by Rev. and Mrs. A. Traub and the bridal party. Mrs. Traub was charming in a costume of sage grey crepe with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses. Rev. Ozro Traub was master of ceremonies at the wedding dinner served in the gaily decorated dining room of the College. Six waitresses dressed in floor-length gowns gracefully served the guests while musical numbers were rendered periodically during the meal.

For travelling the bride donned a tomato-red rayon-gardaine suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson left for a brief wedding trip to Calgary and other nearby points. They will make their home in Portland, Oregon, where the bride will resume her duties as full time Professor of English in Cascade College, and the groom will register in the Theological Seminary of that city preparatory for work in the ministry.

Deachman Says Mr.
Hall Has Visions

If the rail strike situation is serious it is not without some touches of comical relief, says R.D. Deachman of Ottawa. Frank H. Hall presents the case for the railway unions. He puts forward the claim that freight rates are a relatively small item in the cost of commodities. He claims that the transportation costs from the factory to the shelves of the merchants is a relatively minor item. Merchants do not regard it as being one of the important items. Mr. Hall, with all his keen insight into transportation problems fails to see that the movement of a commodity from the manufacturer to the merchant by no means measures to cost of freight rates.

When a steer is shipped from a farm to the market there is a freight rate and the hide is a part of it. When the hide goes from the slaughter house to the tannery there is another freight rate. When it moves from the tannery to the shoe factory there is still another.
It moves again to the distributor and from the distributor to the local merchant. Count up the number of freight rates which have been paid on that one single item and you will come to the conclusion that Mr. Hall's calculations leave out the parts that he does not wish to remember. Meanwhile let me point out that the people of Canada last year paid $688,724,000 in railway freight bills. Add this to the cost of truck traffic and our total freight bill will appear as a not insignificant item in our national economy.

IMPROVEMENTS DECREASE TAXES

Town improvements which lead to better living conditions are the one and only means of reducing taxation in the smaller communities. This is being proven in our neighboring Town of Innisfail where additional building has raised the assessment and enabled the Town council to announce a reduction in the tax rate this year of nine mills and yet provide increased benefits to the citizens.

Due mainly to the installation of a water and sewage system at Innisfail four years ago, a building boom followed and the total assessment increased from $762,000 in 1945 to $1,370,000 in 1950. In addition, the costly water system, which seemed a burden at the time, is now a paying utility and as the time goes on will provide additional revenue for the Town.

Didsbury finds itself in much the same situation as Innisfail was four years ago, but if our assessment continues to rise due to new buildings, there is little doubt that local taxes can be reduced.

After all is said and done the administration costs of a town the size of Didsbury will not increase greatly with an increase in population, and the more people we have to share the tax burden the less will be the tax rate.

DRUNKENNESS IS NO EXCUSE

"I didn't know what I was doing. I didn't really intend to hurt him" ... "to crash into the car" ... "to commit murder" ... "to leave my child" ... "to hit that policeman" ... "You see, Your Honor, I was a little high!"

"I was intoxicated."

"I was under the influence of liquor ..."

"I didn't mean to" ... "The act was not premeditated."

Intoxication as an excuse, twisted and turned this way and that, but still an excuse.

Something to lean on when common sense has gone. An appeal to the court on the ground that all men have this common failing, and you, Your Honor, know that a man is not quite all there when he is drunk and shouldn't, therefore, be held responsible for what he does.

When is all this nonsense in our courts going to stop?

Drunkenness is no excuse and never can or should be held as such. Drunkenness is a cause.

A man or woman who, when intoxicated, damages, injures or kills, is and should be just as liable as the man or woman who, when sober, damages, injures or kills.

To the dead child it makes no difference whether its killer was sober or intoxicated.

If anything, a sober killer is more likely to have taken precaution to avoid the death. The drunk killer is a killer whether in a car or with a gun or knife in hand.—CWNA Editorial Service.

Agricultural SERVICE BOARD NOTES

W.K. Snyder, Field Supervisor

In order to obtain top grades for barley there are a few vital factors to keep in mind. Barley kernels should not be threshed too close so that it will result in peeling or cracking. The losses are mainly due to three factors:

1. Harvesting at the wrong stage of maturity.
2. Faulty methods of swathing.
3. Improper adjustment on the combine or thresher.

Barley should be plump and well matured before it is cut. The golden brown color so desirable in barley can in some measure be obtained by employing good swathing practice. The swath should be laid on the stubble so the heads do not fall through and lie on the ground. The golden color is partly a result of action of dew on the grain. Usually from three days to a week is sufficient time for well matured barley to lie in the swath. A heavy crop should be laid in a wide swath on stubble sufficiently long to hold it up clear of the ground.

All harvesting machinery, especially the combine and threshing machine should be thoroughly cleaned on the outside as well as the inside, with a stiff brush or broom. Stook wagons should be swept off each time a move is made to a new location. Carelessness in these points will result in spreading of weeds from place to place.

Extend Program On Road Surfacing

Extension of Alberta's asphalt surfacing of main highway is well under way, according to officials of the public works department.

If fine weather conditions continue, the program is expected to be completed by fall.

For main highways alone, the appropriation is approximately $11,000,000, for grading, graveling and hard surfacing.

The program includes black-topping from Pincher to Lambton. Contracts have been arranged for similar work from Pincher to Twin Butte and from Macleod to Cardston, while similar work will be carried out between Winnifred and Taber, linking up projects undertaken last year.

Between Strathmore and Bassano, the work will form part of the Trans-Canada highway. It is understood that tenders have been received and are being studied in Ottawa.

Asphalt surfacing also is being laid between Wetaskiwin and Camrose, Mundare and Vegreville, Wetaskiwin and Pigeon Lake, Seta Corner and Styal, through Ponoka and from Wembley in the Peace River country to Highway 34.

FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE BANDS MORE DUCKS IN CANADA

There are no international boundaries so far as the work of two American employees of Duck Unlimited are concerned.

Passing through Regina on their way to Northern nesting grounds to hand ducks, Johnnie Lynch of Abbeville, Louisiana, and Floyd Thompson of Salt Lake City, Utah, showed appreciation for the co-operative attitude of Canadian natural resources officials.

There is an unusual occupation and without such co-operation they wouldn't get very far. Because of it, the two see a lot of country.

The equipment used for the task of banding birds is considerable. Among the vehicles used is a plane piloted by Mr. Lynch. From the plane, birds may be spotted on the northern lakes.

Rolls of page wire, coated with the green moss of many lakes, is used in making traps to catch birds for banding.

Once the men have erected their wire nets, they use an air-thrust boat, which can be propelled in as little as three inches of water on the swamps, to "herd" the birds for banding purposes. This is often a difficult task—in Johnson Lake recently, they had to wade through mud up to their waists to band ducks.

The best season for banding is during July and August when the birds are molting and cannot fly. Mr. Thompson explained.

Birds banded in Saskatchewan are later located in all parts of the United States. Some banded in the upper MacKenzie delta have been shot in Utah, Texas and the Hawaiian Islands.

Information is compiled from the bands by the Washington office. In whose files are recorded the breed and sex of the bird, when they are banded and where the bird was shot or discovered. The records are kept by mutual agreement with Canada, thus maintaining only one banding office for both countries.

The bander draws attention to the great need for co-operation between natural resources officials and hunters to send information to the Washington office. While it is not necessary to forward the bands, it is requested that data regarding the locality in which the bird was shot, the date and serial number from the band be recorded by the hunter and forwarded to the Fish and Wildlife Service at Washington.
